VOL. XXX, NO. 17.

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE, FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1939.

$2.00 PER ANNUM

FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION

A very enthusiastic meeting of members of the Blairmore Fish and Game Association was held in the general office of The Blairmore Enterprise on Sunday forenoon, when quite a number of new members were enrolled. It was decided at this meeting that monthly prizes be awarded for the largest rainbow, bull trout and grayling, and that the awards be equivalent to $2.00 for the former and $1.00 for each of the latter, provided, of course, that no prize will be awarded for rainbow or grayling less than one pound, or bull trout less than one and a half pounds. Such prizes, of course, will have little bearing on the season prizes. Also, at the end of the season a draw will be made, for which prizes will be a .22-calibre rifle and a complete split-bamboo fishing rod. It is proposed to hold club outings at least once a month during the open season, the date of the first outing to be announced shortly.

PRELIMINARY BROADCASTS OF THE ROYAL VISIT

Following is a review of broadcasts of the Royal visit, which will commence Tuesday next. All times given are E. D. S. T., from which deduct three hours.

Tuesday, May 2nd, 7.45 to 8.00 p.m.: Royal Stamps and Coins. Talk from Winnipeg on special issues in commemoration of the Royal visit.

Thursday, May 4th, 7.45 to 8.00 p.m.: "Books and the King." Talk from Montreal.

Saturday, May 6th, 7.30 to 8.00 a.m.: Departure of Their Majesties from Portmouthe in Emegress of Australia, broadcast from BBC.

Sunday, May 7th, 9.00 to 9.30 p.m.: "God Save The King." Special programme describing in music and drama the history of the National Anthem.

Programme of the following week will appear in our next issue.

Fred V. Stone, former private secretary to Premier William Abernethy of Alberta, told a Montreal service club that democracy in Alberta is government of the fifty big shots who don't live there by the experts who came from England for the people who don't want to pay their debts.

Last week an item in the daily press referred to a Roman Catholic priest entering the Presbyterian church at Toronto, and taking his entire congregation with him. The statement is denied by Bishop Ross of Gaspé. The priest referred to was M. D'Anjou, who had recently been excommunicated from the Catholic church, together with all who followed him, which happened to be one only.

LORD BISHOP OF CALGARY TO VISIT PASS ON SUNDAY

His Lordship Bishop Sherman, of Calgary, will visit The Pass on Sunday next, and will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation at St. Luke's church, Blairmore, at 5 p.m., and at St. Alban's church, Coleman, in the evening at 7 o'clock.

BRIEF SUMMARY OF WORK ALBERTA DIVISION RED CROSS

Since its opening in 1922, the Junior Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital has treated 2,657 children; in 1938 eighty-six patients were admitted for treatment and fifty additional received out-patient treatment; hospital days for the year totalled 8,940; patients admitted were residents of 40 cities, towns and villages of Alberta, representing 13 nationalities and were treated for 15 different disabilities; a registered teacher in the hospital gives regular school instruction and occupational training to the patients; in the past year 12 post-polio myelitis cases have been given treatment at the hospital.

In the schools of Alberta, there were 854 Junior Red Cross branches, with a membership of 22,717. The purpose of these branches is to instill in the minds of the children the ideals of taking care of their own health, being of service to others, and promoting goodwill and understanding.

A total of 1,388 families of the province, representing 6,940 persons, all needy and deserving, were assisted with clothing, bedding and household necessities during the year.

A total of 648 Red Cross and other pamphlets were mailed to those requesting information on health matters, while 4,482 articles of infant clothing were distributed.

The campaign for 1939 funds begins May 1st and closes May 6th.

SPECIAL ISSUE OF STAMPS TO MARK ROYAL VISIT

When the King and Queen step ashore on Canadian soil at Quebec on May 15th, post office employees from coast to coast will place on sale crisp sheets of new postage stamps specially issued to commemorate the Royal visit.

The one-cent stamp will be green and black, with full-face portraits of Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose. The two-cent will be brown and black, with a picture of the National War Memorial to be unveiled by the King, May 18th. The three-cent will have full-face portraits of the King and Queen and will be red and black. All three stamps will be double size.

Ken McDowell has opened a grocery store at Beaver Mines.

BLAIRMORE ORCHESTRA WINS HIGH HONORS

Adjudication of the work of the Blairmore Sunday School Orchestra, 14 pieces, under the leadership of Mr. J. E. Upton, at Lethbridge, brought out the following comment from the adjudicator:

"Test piece, 'Largo' (Handel): Cello specially mentioned for splendid work, also viola. Well judged pace; right in the mood; well-shaped and well-carried phrases. Evidence of genuinely musical direction; string play of high technical competency, holding splendid possibilities. Keen and intelligent phrase points; admirable realization of the composition. I give them the superbly extravagant mark of 90, because I cannot help but do so."

The orchestra ensemble included Miss Iris May, Miss Paraska Gushul, Miss B. Arrol, Miss Rose Oliver, George Oliver, David Ferguson, Eddie Arrol, Billie Royle, Donald Ross, Jack Ferguson, Evan Gushul, Mostyn Hadwell, with Mr. J. E. Upton as their energetic leader.

Other successful Crows' Nest Pass competitors included Miss Jean Oliver, in junior piano class under 14, and Miss Georgette Dav, first in intermediate piano class under 16, with 172 marks.

GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB WILL OPEN SEASON SUNDAY

The official opening of the Crows' Nest Pass Golf and Country Club will be held on Sunday next, April 30th, at 10.30 a.m., when President H. Blake and his partner will drive off in a mixed foursome competition.

All members and intending members are invited to take part, and it is requested that all those intending to play this season get in touch with Mr. W. H. Turner, phone 1101, before 6 p.m. on Saturday, so that a draw may be made before 10.30 on Sunday.

Arrangements are being made for several competitions, and all players are urged to obtain handicaps, as those without them are not eligible for play. Cards should be turned in to Mr. Turner at the clubhouse, so that handicaps may be allotted.

The first men's competition will be the qualifying round for the Pattinson cup series, date to be announced. This is a handicap event, and the slight low net entrants will qualify for match play on handicap. It is important, therefore, that all members obtain handicaps.

The annual tournament of the Crows' Nest Pass Golf Association will be held at Lethbridge early in June on the course of the Lethbridge Golf and Country Club.

The most popular theme song yet suggested was by Enos last week end: "O come, you poor faithful."

During the visit of the King and Queen to Canada, Their Majesties will make six public addresses, which will be broadcast. The King will speak at Quebec on May 15th, 10.45 a.m.; Ottawa, May 18th, 11.45 a.m.; Winnipeg, May 24th, 12 noon; Victoria, May 30th, 8 p.m.; and Halifax, June 15th, 9.30 a.m. Her Majesty will speak at Ottawa, May 19th, 7.45 a.m. All three mountain standard.

CROWS' NEST PASS GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB MEETS

The annual meeting of the Crows' Nest Pass Golf and Country Club was held recently at the Greenhill hotel, Blairmore, with President Harry Blake presiding.

The election of officers resulted in Mr. Blake being re-elected as president, W. L. Rippon, of Coleman, secretary, and a strong executive committee.

Dues for 1939 were set as follows: Men $15, ladies $10, couples $20, with special rates for students and junior players. Dues are payable to W. H. Turner at the clubhouse, and may be paid in instalments of fifty per cent in April and the balance before June the 1st.

An attractive programme of events has been arranged, with the official opening on Sunday, April 30th, with a mixed foursome competition. The Charbonnier, Green and Pattinson cups will be competed for, and a number of inter-club matches are being arranged.

The course has been put in excellent condition, and a successful season is expected.

All those interested in golf are cordially invited to join the club.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL OPENS MONDAY NEXT

The fourteenth annual session of the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival will open at the Columbus hall at 9 o'clock on Monday morning. The programme will include vocal, violin, piano, cello, and sight reading competitions, and will occupy three full days, with morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

Mr. Ronald Gibson, of Winnipeg, is to be the adjudicator.

We understand that upwards of three hundred entries have been registered, quite a number being from British Columbia.

The evening sessions promise to be unusually interesting, particularly the military band open, in which the Fernie City Band, under F. Vernon, and the West Canadian Collieries' Band, under G. W. Goodwin, will compete.

There are no less than 23 entries for the vocal solo class under 12, five for Grade I, junior violin under 10, six for Grade I, piano under 10, nine for girls' solo under 14, six for open junior girls, seven for school choruses, fifteen for girls' vocal solo under 10, six for Grade II, junior violin under 12, six for boys' vocal solo under 10, twelve for Grade II, senior violin under 12, eight for juvenile boys' vocal over 8, thirteen for Grade II, piano under 12, nine for girls' vocal solo under 20, seven for girls' vocal solo under 17, three for viola quartets, nine for junior vocal under 21, eleven for juvenile girls' vocal under 8, eight for Grade III, piano under 14, six for high school boys' vocal solo, two for instrumental sextet, one junior church choir, one senior church choir, two instrumental quartets and two senior orchestras.

The Bellevue United Church senior choir will sing on Tuesday night. Another feature of that night's programme will be the string section of the Crows' Nest Pass Amateur Orchestra under W. H. Moser, conductor. Secure your season ticket now.

THE PASS EIGHTEEN YEARS AGO

(The Blairmore Enterprise, 1921)
May 5.—Bellevue Oddfellows and Rebekahs on Sunday last celebrated the 102nd anniversary of the founding of Oddfellowship by holding the regular prescribed service in their hall. Bert Dryden, N.G., presided, assisted by A. Hallworth and Harry Jepson. About one hundred members were in attendance.

Trout fishing opened in South Alberta streams this year on May 24th. The High River Times was complaining that Alberta people were being "taxed to death."

Mrs. Joe Labourier left Bellevue this week for France.

Mrs. Donald McDonald, mother of Mr. J. W. McDonald, K.C., of Macleod, passed away at Toronto from injuries sustained in a fall.

Hatfield was sure he could make water every two hours.

The old Coghill farm near Cowley has been sold to the Doukhobors. Miss Bessie Passmore and Mrs. A. Tremouth were visitors to Grassy Lake.

The marriage of Miss Isabel McDougall, of Grassy Lake, to Constable Marjerson, A. P. Police, took place at Grassy Lake this week.

The marriage of Annino Folino, of Fernie, to Tom Folino, of Blairmore, took place this week, Father Murphy officiating.

Pass bootleggers appeared in caucus the early part of the week for the purpose of rehearsing the new theme song, which ran:

"Sing a song of soft drinks,
And a cellar full of royle;
Policemen came and took it,
All on the 'e'ly.

When the court was opened,
Up they had us all,
Soaked us each five hundred—
Wasn't that a haul!"

The old Presbyterian mission hall was this week moved over to the rear of Central Union church, where it will be used for Sunday school purposes. Jim Warner had his hand severely burned this week when he accidentally grabbed a live electric wire.

Will the lady who lost her teeth in soup at the Comopolitan hotel please call for same. They jumped from the broth and hit the dishwasher.

Ike Lougheed left this week to visit his sister in Detroit.

May 12.—William Brooker died from injuries sustained in the Bellevue mine.

Jim Cousins, of Bellevue, this week invested in a guaranteed tree-climbing Ford.

Henry Zak moved his meat market into new premises just west of Mr. Gillis' office this week.

The dwelling next east of St. Anne's church has been purchased by the Catholic church as a residence for the parish priest.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

Ishbel, Marchioness of Aberdeen, 82, widow of a former governor-general of Canada, died of heart disease at her home in Scotland.

The empire will rally to the principles of liberty and justice if the general, Viscount Galtway, governor-general of New Zealand, said.

British arms plants are now manufacturing Bren machine guns in sufficient numbers to meet the needs of the army.

Civil Guard General Jose Aranguen Roldan was sentenced to death by a court-martial for ordering his troops to resist the rebel army at the beginning of the Spanish civil war.

The Maple Leaf Milling Company, Limited, will build a 1,000-barrel flour mill at Winnipeg or St. Boniface, Man., it was announced at Toronto.

New aeronautical and other laboratories are to be built for the National Research Council on a 100-acre property adjoining the Rockcliffe airport.

Albania decided to withdraw from the League of Nations. The new government telegraphed its decision to the league's secretary-general at Geneva.

The United States government is planning to send a government expedition to the South Pole regions to "nail down" American claims to potential resources for which an international race is developing.

The Royal Society of British Artists withdrew from its exhibition as "too political" an allegorical painting representing the heads of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in the scales of justice.

A 26-year-old Frenchman, Francois Helmut Grunberg, died as a spy before a firing squad. Grunberg, a forester who worked in the area along the Maginot defence line facing Germany, was arrested at the time of the September crisis.

Future Of Canada

Prediction Made That Dominion Is On Eve Of Era Of Prosperity

Shrewd observers, watching Canada closely, are expressing the opinion that the Dominion is on the eve of an era of prosperity.

One prominent expert in regard to investments contends that in the measure it is in the nature of a reaction to the events in Europe. Apart from the stimulus that re-armament programs have given to certain manufactures and the demand for raw materials, he points out that, thanks to the policy of European dictators, capital is being driven from the Continent and is seeking a refuge in Canada. There are more peaceful conditions prevail.

In like manner craftsmen skilled in certain trades, who have been compelled to seek homes where they may enjoy the blessings of peace, are moving to Canada, bringing with them their expert knowledge and skill. Already there has been talk of developing the pottery industry in Canada, and only the other day it was mentioned in the Quebec Legislative Council that International Folia, Ltd., a Czech-Slovakian concern, proposed to establish its plant at Cap de la Madeleine, in the province. In this way does the sheltering arm reaching of the Dominion's Weekly (London).

A True Benefactor

Late Dr. Park Made New York A Healthier City

For the fact that New York is one of the most healthful of the large cities of the world, Dr. William Hallock Park, who died at the age of 76, deserves a large share of the credit, states the New York Herald Tribune. Time was when diphtheria and cholera infantum took a dreadful toll among children. Dr. Park put an end to that. He attacked disease on many fronts and, although he did not find all the answers, he made progress in virtually every field of research which he invaded. At the beginning of his service of 43 years as director of the bureau of laboratories of the Department of Health, New York was, in all truth, a disease-ridden city; the history of those 43 years is one of patient experiment and steady advancement. He left no fortune, City he left a name that is an honor to medicine. He was one of the true benefactors of mankind.

Veterans Recover Voice

The worst of the World War is over for John M. Chandler, 40 years old, of Excelsior Springs, Mo. He can talk. Chandler came out of the Argonne forest in 1918 with a head injury. The shock rendered him mute. Recently he awoke one morning with a "peculiar feeling in my head. I felt like I could talk again," he said. "I tried and I could."

Another Doll Collection

Woman in Florida Has Hundreds in Interesting Exhibit

The international doll house—"doll heaven," somebody called it once—boasts one of the largest and most varied collection of dolls in the United States. Mrs. Jack Baughman is mother to the dolls, which she has gathered from all over the world and exhibits in the little Florida cottage town of St. Cloud. She has hundreds of the little figures, filling cases and lining the walls of her international doll house.

Some are exhibited in miniature display. A few of the dolls are old and valuable. One is labeled an "Italian Lady of Quality." Her clothes, embroidered with gold, were copied from a painting by Flaminio, 15th century artist. She wears a giraffe and necklace of rubies, emeralds and diamonds.

An odd pair is Amanda Button and her son. They are dressed in clothing consists of 10 pounds of metal, ivory and bone buttons—all colors, sizes and shapes.

The collection shows the progress doll-making since time began. The dolls represent many nations and international personalities who were famous years ago. Among them are Queen Wilhelmina, Lillian Gish, Jenny Lind and Lillian Russell.

One display features a stained glass window which was brought here from Rome. It is the background of a wedding scene complete in every detail, including the priest with his robes and heavy gold cross.

A few of the dolls date back to the early part of the 18th century. A collection of old Colonial dolls are dressed in their original clothing.

Another display is an African scene with a stained wooden Ubangi and a fierce looking African dwarf. Both dolls were made in Africa, Mrs. Baughman said. Other displays are a covered wagon scene, Bahama spongers, and a display of dolls of all nations.

Gardening

No Hurry

The average amateur starts operations days or sometimes weeks too soon and stops because his unsatisfactory operations can be continued. With the general run of vegetables and flowers, there is no need of getting things in while there is no danger of serious frost. One setback for the greenhouse, for example, is the early start and may indeed mean replanting the whole garden. This caution does not apply to the hardiest vegetables or flowers or to grass seed. These should be sown just as soon as grass is fit to work.

A Short Cut

For a short cut the gardener is advised to purchase a certain quantity of started plants of both flowers and vegetables. These are usually purchased from the greenhouse, florist or seed house. It is important to get the varieties wanted and on this account it is an excellent idea to consult a good Canadian seed catalogue before placing the order. The gardener can look over the various varieties offered in the catalogue and should make sure that the particular varieties wanted are in the boxes of plants bought.

Among the flowers which can be purchased as started plants are cosmos, zinnias, petunias, marigolds, salpiglossis, nicotiana and a host of others. Cabbages, celery, tomatoes, head lettuce, egg and pepper plants in the vegetable line are all sold as started plants.

Most For Money

Those with only a little land to spare should concentrate on those vegetables which give the biggest return for the smallest space occupied. Among such kinds are beans, carrots, onions, lettuce, various varieties of spinach, cucumbers and beets. In the lesser-known vegetables are leeks, egg and pepper plants, broad beans and coss lettuce. These can all be grown in any part of Canada, experts advise. The inclusion of something new in the vegetable line each year so that variety can be gradually widened.

Ocean Flying Boats

Three Huge Ships For Trans-Atlantic Service To Be Launched

Three huge ocean flying-boats, nearly twice as large as the Empire flying-boats, are likely to be launched from Rochester very shortly.

It may thus be possible to maintain part at least of the weekly air mail service between England, Canada and the United States without resort to refuelling in the air, for these big boats will be capable of taking into the air, under their own power, a payload of 3,750 pounds in addition to gasoline for 3,200 miles. They are expected to cruise at 180 miles an hour. The flying-boats are being built for Imperial Airways.

The loaded weight of the Golden Hind class, as the latest flying-boats are called, is 72,000 pounds. The estimated top speed is 205 miles an hour. They will carry a crew of five.

The hesperornis, a bird that lived on earth millions of years ago, could progress only by swimming. It could neither walk nor fly.

YOUNG "BASQUE" FROCK, SO NEW

By Anne Adams

Girls, here's a brand new silhouette to satisfy your desire for change! It's the Basque Dress—the prettiest and most significant style of the spring, as interpreted by Anne Adams. You'll love the way the bodice hugs the figure and narrows the waistline to red-ink-like slenderness. Then, from the hips down there's such exquisite, circular fullness! Although this frock is so radiantly new, it's very easy to make (Count the few pattern pieces!) Such choice as you have, too—with scalloped or sweetheart neck, and puffed, slashed-in sleeves or open cap sleeves! Also—you may have pointed or rounded waistline, each version flattering. Choose gayest of prints!

Pattern 4063 is available in junior and misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 14 takes 39 yards 39 inch fabric and 2 yards lace. Send twenty cents (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Enterprise, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

A Gold Hoard

Iowa Man Who Died Recently Had Fortune Sewn In His Underwear

A gold hoard 10-year-old Clem Hanke, of Le Mars, Ia., battled to protect until the day he died was found sewn in his underwear.

Two months ago Hanke, armed with a shotgun, routed three robbers who entered his farm home to steal the fortune they had heard Hanke kept hidden. Two Sioux City, Ia., men were convicted April 8 for participation in the attempted robbery. Hanke died a natural death the next day.

Sheriff Frank Scholer announced that Hanke's two children had found $41,500 in gold coins and old bills sewed in the underwear and hidden in a trunk.

Scientists usually are the first to report earthquakes, but the Manila earthquake of 1937 was the exception to the rule. An extensive telegraph set-up, carrying Chinese-Japanese war stories, actually scooped the seismograph stations.

World Poultry Congress

Every Province in Canada To Be Represented At Event In Cleveland

Canada is planning to make the 7th World Poultry Congress and Exposition another occasion for a gesture of friendliness to their good neighbors in the United States. The Congress, which is held every three years in a different country, will this year be staged at Cleveland, Ohio, from July 28 to August 4, 1939. Canada will have the largest single exhibit of any country outside the United States. Only two exhibits will be larger—that of the United States Government and the exhibit of the State of Ohio.

Every province of Canada will be represented at the Congress and many birds of various breeds will be seen both in the Canadian exhibits and in the Foreign Bird Exhibit. It is officially reported that over one thousand season tickets have been sold already to Canadians, and the Special Poultry Commissioner for Canada, F. C. Elford, expects that Canadian visitors to the Congress will be numbered by thousands. Among the Canadian visitors will be a delegation from the Trappist Monastery at Oka, P.Q. They will show their famous Chanticleer breed of birds, which is an especially developed and hearty variety without combs or wattles, enabling them the better to stand the rigors of winter.

But the day on which it is expected that Canada's friendly demonstrations will reach their peak will be on July 31, which has been named by the Congress National Committee as Canada Day. On that day the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will perform their spectacular musical ride, and the Girls' Killie Band of Saskatoon will be heard during the day. The special attention of other nations will also be directed on Canada Day to the various Canadian exhibits.

This Changing World

Makes It Almost Impossible To Be Positive About Anything

Willard W. Beatty, director of education for the U.S. Office of Indian Affairs, at Cleveland, Ohio, said that health charts have been discredited by doctors because there is no "normal" pattern that can be used on age and height.

"People are as the Lord made them," he said, "and no amount of stuffing or starving is going to change them if they're built that way."

The changing world, he said, has made it dangerous to say one thing is good and another is bad. He pointed to the once prevalent belief that good teeth were dependent upon regular brushing and said the Eskimos, who have excellent teeth, will lose them if they eat the white man's candy, no matter how much they brushed them.

Beatty, speaking before 500 members of the Child Health Association, urged educators and doctors to recognize the wide range of what is normal.

Cabin Boy Was Lucky

Paddy Kelly, cabin boy aboard the Empress of Britain, saw a half-penny lying in a corridor aboard the liner. As he stooped to pick it up he found jewels worth $2,700 ($12,750) almost hidden in a crevice. They belonged to a passenger, Mrs. W. C. Caine, and had been missing since the liner was at Manila a month previously. Paddy is richer now by £270—his reward for the discovery.

Despite its name, the house centipede has only 30 legs—not 100.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 30

PAUL CROSSES INTO EUROPE

Golden text: When he had seen the vision, straightaway we sought to go into Macedonia. Acts 16:10. Lesson: Acts 15:36-17:15. Devotional reading: Philippians 1:3-11.

Explanations And Comments

Paul and Barnabas Part Company. Acts 15:32-16:5. After reporting at Antioch the result of the conference with the church at Jerusalem, Paul and Barnabas returned to Jerusalem. Paul and Barnabas tarried awhile at Antioch, and then Paul proposed to start out again and see how the churches fared which they had founded on their previous journey. Barnabas approved, but he wished to have Mark go with them. As Mark had deserted them in Pamphylia on the first journey, Paul refused to try him again. The two great workers could not see the subject of Mark and they separated. Barnabas took Mark and went to Cyprus, and we hear nothing further of the work of that great-hearted missionary. Paul chose Silas for his companion, and went through Syria and Cilicia (the first province in Asia Minor around the bend of the coast) to the city of Iconium, where Timothy joined them. As they travelled from town to town, they handed out to the people the resolutions which the apostles and presbyters in Jerusalem had decided were to be obeyed (Mosley's translation). Their visit resulted in the strengthening of the faith of the church and increase in membership.

Frustrated Purposes. Acts 16:6-8. Paul and Silas travelled on through Phrygia and Galatia, having been prevented from going as they wished into the province of Mysia, and declined to go into the province of Bithynia, where again the way was blocked for them. So they passed through Macedonia to come to Troas.

The Call of the West. Acts 16:9-10. These robes of duty came to Paul to turn back. Instead, he kept on to Troas by the sea.

Europe. Acts 16:11, 12. From Troas Paul's ship crossed directly to the island of Samothrace, and on the following day proceeded to Neapolis in Macedonia. From Neapolis to Philippi was a nine-mile trip on foot.

Control Of Foodstuffs

Stringent Government Measures To Be Adopted In Britain

Measures designed to abolish wartime profiteering and speculation in food by placing its sale under strict government control were published by the British board of trade's department of food-defence plans, headed by Sir Henry French.

The scheme provides for creation of 1,400 local food provisioning committees, the personnel of which has been selected. All documents required for their work, including 19,000,000 food request blanks and 60,000 ration cards, have been prepared by government printing press.

The plan provides stringent government control over the purchase of necessary foodstuffs from foreign countries and domestic producers. Authorities will purchase and transport foodstuffs will be concentrated in government hands to eliminate competition and speculation among purchasers and to avoid risks, losses, damage and delay in shipment.

Existing import duties would handle wartime purchases from abroad in the capacity of government agents. Import committees would be established in each port zone in order to speed up control, unloading, storage and distribution of food.

The scheme, which has been under preparation for three years and which is modelled on the experience of the closing years of the Great War, was said to be advanced to the stage of final planning of a bulletin or the despatch of a telegram could set it in motion all over the country. The flow of supplies, regulated by the government, is expected to eliminate any necessity of forming queues at food supply centres.

Bad News For Junior

Doctor Claims Candy Hampers Growth Of Young Children

Young Johnny, who won't grow up to be big and like Pop? If he smokes too soon, well may sigh—candy eating is in the same forbidden list.

Sir John Boyd Orr, diet specialist from Aberdeen, told newspapermen that the appetite of youngsters and keeps them from eating the "protective" foods required for their physical development.

The "protective" foods, said Sir John, who was in Montreal, to deliver an address under auspices of the Canadian Medical Association, are milk, fruits, vegetables, meat, liver and eggs.

"Children," he said, "have a great need of these foods which protect their growing bodies against the destructive action of sugar has no protective value at all."

The specialist said correct eating habits are spreading rapidly over Great Britain—to such an extent, in fact, that British youngsters to-day are an average of two inches taller than their parents were at the same age.

HOW IT STARTED

The universal lotem of the barber, the pole painted in alternate stripes of red and white is familiar to everyone. Does everyone know how it started?

The history of this pole dates back from the middle ages when the barber was the only surgeon.

In the reign of Edward IV, a charter of incorporation was given to the "Freeman of the Mystery of the Barber" of the City of London using the Mystery of the Faculty of Surgery." Thus the art of the surgeon and the trade of the barber were combined. Governors of this combination were appointed and this step may be said to have been the inception of what is now the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

In the reign of Henry VIII, the barbers and surgeons of London were merged into one body under the name of the "Mystery and Company of the Barbers and Surgeons of London," and Holbein the celebrated artist, made a painting of the event.

The charter of King Henry was confirmed by Charles I, but in the reign of George II, the old union of the Barbers and Surgeons was dissolved and henceforth the surgeons of England were left to struggle along as best they could. They haven't made such a bad job of it.

The colours of the barber's pole represent incidents of far away times; the red signifies blood, the white the bandage.

But the barber-surgeon, if divorced from his former occupation in England, survived for a long time in other lands. As late as 1846 in the south of Spain, barber shops generally had a notice that the barber did mid-wifery and surgery as well as shaving, and far more recently Sir John Simon says that "he had the honour of being shaved by a barber who had Prof. Virchow's (the great German pathologist's) latest publications on the book-shelf beside his basin."

Gave Services Free

Famous Surgeon Was More Humane Than New York Doctors

On September 10, 1930 a group of newspapers offered a reward of $10,000 for the capture of the person who threw acid on a 13-year-old girl playing on West 109th street, New York. No surgeon would remove the scars from her body—unseen the free of $5,000 was rumored. And so during the past five years she has been wearing long-sleeved dresses to hide the scars as she peddled cigarettes in the Stork Club. A year ago a famous surgeon offered to remove them, but her story. He told her to visit his office. Three days after that visit the scars were expertly removed—and Christine Lake is no longer a cigarette girl at the Stork Club. She recently realized a life-long ambition—being a beauty specialist. The surgeon wouldn't accept a cent for his services.

Fare For Flight Around World Will Be About $1,785

If you care to fly around the world, you will be able to do it soon for a mere $1,785. Harold Cravy, vice-president of the United Airlines, announced at the recent meeting of the Atlantic Clipper would make it possible. The 17,300-mile trip will include overnight visits at 11 of the 14 proposed stops, Cravy said, and will take only 14 days. And all you'll need is a one-way ticket.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

Edmonton, April 24. — Daily the Royal visit of Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth assumes greater significance in the capital city, and with the advent of spring weather, definite action in the line of preparations has taken the place of mere planning.

Erection of stands along the Portage Avenue section of the Royal route is commencing immediately, and under the impetus of the Junior Board of Trade, a city-wide clean-up and paint-up campaign has begun.

Owing to the earliness of the visit from the horticultural point of view, gardeners are said to be pondering deeply their difficulties. As is to be expected, they want to make a red, white and blue showing of blooms wherever possible, and in the legislative greenhouses it is said that the problem is one of major importance.

Among the craftsmen, however, the seasonable element does not enter — with the result that in the legislative building painters and decorators have already begun the job of putting things right for the first citizen of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Outstanding contribution in the legislative chamber is, of course, the pair of oil portraits, which have been done by Turner Taylor, the Vancouver artist. Matching in size the oil representations of the late George V. and Queen Mary, which already grace the chamber, the new canvases will receive the endorsement of all citizens. Early this week the artist was at work putting the finishing touches to his creations prior to formal delivery to the government.

The chamber, too, will be brightened by the laying of a new carpet, which has been ordered by the government. For the season now, newsmen and galleries have watched the traffic lanes on the old carpet grow from a deep red to a pale pink, and to a dirty mottled gray. With the changing of governments, and consequent changing of desk formations, there evolved other traffic lanes, and the floor was rapidly assuming a most distracting and intricate pattern in the eyes of the gods above.

Now it will be changed. The old carpet will be cut up and used for repairing and replacement in other parts of the legislative suites. For it must be borne in mind that the lobbies, too, were the scene of traffic lanes. Whether beaten in by legislators or lobbyists is a matter for conjecture. Draperies in the chamber, which have faded considerably, will be renovated, dyed, and hung again, while paint and varnish will add their virtues to the cause of good citizenship.

ABERHART'S JUST PRICE

When N. B. James, Social Credit member for Acadia, moved his residence in the house recently, that the Dominion government be requested to peg the price of wheat at $1.00 per bushel, he must have forgotten that his leader, Wm. Aberhart, long ago declared that the "just price" for wheat was 60c — less 5c to help pay our monthly dividend. — Della Times.

CARS FOR KING'S USE
IN CANADA DWARE
EVERYTHING ON ROAD

Oshawa, April 24. — Two beautiful seven automobiles, surpassing in size, beauty and magnificence anything previously produced in the Canadian automotive industry, are now being completed at Oshawa for the use of the King and Queen during their Canadian tour in May and June.

Selected for the honor of providing two of the four official cars which will be used by the Royal party, General Motors of Canada assigned its most skillful designers and craftsmen to the task of creating vehicles suitable for the momentous occasion — the first visit of the King and Queen to Canadian soil.

Already familiar with the motoring tastes and preferences of the Royal family through having built six cars for its members in the past three years, General Motors of Canada incorporated into the two machines the ultimate in luxury and safety for the Royal passengers, combined with a high degree of visibility enabling the occupants to be readily seen by the royal citizens of Canada before whom they will pass.

To everyone connected with the work, the task of producing the Royal cars is a source of pride. From R. S. McLaughlin, president of General Motors of Canada, down to the humblest of the craftsmen engaged in assembling the cars by painstaking hand labor, the job is prized and regarded as an opportunity of expressing the deep devotion which they and all their fellow Canadians feel for their King and Queen.

A factor in the according of this double honor to General Motors of Canada by the government was the fact that General Motors of Canada was able to offer an undertaking that 75 per cent of the cars' content in labor and materials would be Canadian — as compared to the 55 per cent which was stipulated by the government in considering plans for the vehicles.

Among the provisions for the safety of the passengers is the use of "safety tubes" in the six-ply white-wall tires with which the cars are equipped.

Apart from their almost startling size, beauty of design and distinctiveness of color, the two McLaughlin-Buicks carry traditional and unmistakable symbols of the regal rank of their occupants. On each rear door there is a hand-painted Royal crest. A striking blue signal light supplements the specially designed driving lamps. Above the centre post of the windshield the Royal standard is imposed as evidence that the greatest Dominion of the British Empire is playing host to her King.

TRAINING FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Through the co-operation of the federal and provincial governments, there is made available public money to enable young women from 16 to 35 years of age to secure a period of training for home service that would enable them to secure employment under favorable conditions. A training school for this purpose has been set up in Calgary in a most attractive home under the direction of three competent instructors, and young women whose homes are in cities, towns or hamlets are invited to apply for admission. The course runs for a period of three months, ten being enrolled each month, and there is no tuition fee. For young women in good health and endorsed by reputable citizens, arrangements can be made to provide transportation, and for board and room accommodation under supervision without cost to the party for the three months' period. There are several other advantages, but one of the main is the undertaking to help the young woman to secure a job at a fair wage and to supervise her in her work. Those to whom this privilege is offered must give an undertaking to work on some job for wages for a period of at least six months immediately after graduation, if a suitable place may be found for her.

This is an excellent opportunity for desirable young women anxious to improve themselves, and inquiries are invited by the committee in charge, in care of the Government Employment Bureau, Calgary.

WATCH FOR EXTRA
TOUGH SALAMI BOYS!

Tony tells of his efforts last week end to convert a 100 per cent 500-lb pig into honest to goodness Italian salami. That pig, according to records, gently submitted to the request from a British-cockney count to being roped stampee style preparatory to execution. Being of British origin, the pucky could well understand English, but no other language. Consequently, once the legs, tail, ears, tongue and snout were wrapped down, pucky overheard someone make a remark in Italian that sounded like "Fucile," and pucky waited patiently for the consequences. Presently Tony arrived with a .22-calibre rifle and as he was ready to pull the trigger, Angelo yelled: "Fucilare!" Tony pulled, pucky jumped, released himself from his wire fetters and pulled off to the hills. Arming himself with a shotgun, Tony climbed some eight hundred feet up the mountainside to where he had last eyed his quarry, looked around, then discovered the animal happily wending its way homeward. Reaching home, Tony exclaimed: "Nessuno! Nessuno!! Troppo tigroso per salame!" That pig was allowed to live long enough to repent, but is now forming a part of what is considered pig salamatized. It might be stated in closing that this was not that animal which a year ago ate up 100 pounds of Tony's cabbage in one lunch.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Corrigan, of Longview, on the birth of a son at High River hospital on April 24th. Mrs. Corrigan was formerly Miss Agnes Marquis.

We wonder if a new leader would favor returning the $200 despoil which was hi-jacked from the electors of High River — Okotoks constituency under the short-lived Recall Act. If an election comes soon, our High River friends will be badly in need of this for their campaign funds, and we hope that the Alberta government is just holding it in trust for them. — Macleod Gazette.

This busy western housewife may think, too, about the workers back east kept employed making all these useful and attractive cotton and rayon articles and of how the money they earn enables them to buy her butter — her husband's beef and wheat.

"Yes," she murmurs as she works, "it's all worth while. We western workers put good food within reach of eastern mothers and their children, while textile workers back there provide us with all these additional home comforts. Canadian comradeship like that seems sensible to me!"

While Albertans have been waiting almost four years for a $25 dividend, our premier has pocketed sufficient to retire on for the rest of his life—and then some, if he only draws half-interest rate on his savings.

Plans to visit every constituency in the province were announced by Liberal Leader Gray last week end, who urges preparations to be made for a general election, which must be held within approximately sixteen months. Mr. Gray will open a series of province-wide broadcasts from Calgary tomorrow evening.

Only recently, Abie announced that after the session members of his government would endeavor to visit all constituencies with a view to ascertaining their wishes, etc. Just watch Abie visiting High River-Otokots. The people in his own riding are still "wishing" for that misappropriated two hundred dollars.

LOCAL AND GENERAL ITEMS

If doctors were as slow in responding to calls as some patients are in paying their bills, the death rate would be a lot higher.—Galt Resorter.

There will be over seventy Fernie bandsmen and orchestra players coming down to Blairmore for the festival on May 3rd. And no doubt a gang of supporters.

Charles Hays, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hays, leaves this week end for Calgary, where he will take up an engineering course at the School of Technology and Art.

About 80 per cent of the jokes cracked in our neighboring province to the west are said to be on Abiehart, and that it is hoped that percentage in his interest may yet be increased.

Thomas H. Duncan, manager of the Greenhill hotel, who had been under the lumbago weather for a week or more, was able to take his A. B. position on Monday and now pretends to be o. k.

Arthur Collingwood, adjudicator at the Lethbridge Musical Festival this week stated that the festival session Tuesday night was comparable with the finest he has heard throughout the British Isles.

A new fishing leader which will not fray, split or become brittle, is invisible in water and possesses elastic qualities permitting a uniform give of about one inch per foot and resuming normal length with much the same action as a rubber band, has just been made available to the Canadian angling world.

Bore: "Yes, I was alone in the Arctic, with only an old gun and some powder. Suddenly a polar bear appeared in front of me and I cried, for I knew I was doomed. But the cold air froze my tears into little balls of ice and I put them into the muzzle of the gun and filled it with powder. I fired. The heat from the explosion melted the ice, and it went in a stream of water toward the bear's head. The cold air again froze the water into a dagger of ice, which entered the bear's head. But that's not all; the heat in the bear's head melted the ice, and believe it or not, that polar bear died from water on the brain."

A. L. R. Davidson, for some time manager of the government liquor store at Coleman, took charge of the Blairmore vendor store on Thursday of this week. His family will move down from Coleman shortly. Mr. Davidson is being replaced at Coleman by Mr. Smith, of the Lethbridge store staff.

BALDWIN SAYS CANADA IS OBJECT LESSON TO EUROPE

Toronto.—Union of French and English in Canada is object lesson to Europe that war or threat of war is "not necessarily a subject of nature and that after centuries of strife, nations can seek peace and they can find it." Earl Baldwin said here in the first of three lectures in University of Toronto's Convocation hall.

That reconciliation and union of two racial groups was a practical demonstration not only of tolerance but also of "certain qualities by which alone our empire can be preserved—loyalty, sympathy and understanding."

In suggesting other countries might be persuaded to follow the example of the British, Earl Baldwin made plain he was not assuming any English complacency and self-righteousness.

"We in our empire, after much experience, have adopted the method of mutual co-operation in attempting the solution of our problems. We have happily been able to show that difficulties can be resolved by discussion where we are certain they could not be by force. We have found that this method of co-operation can be adapted to domestic needs as well as to those of wider imperial import."

"There is nothing of complacency or self-righteousness in holding that such methods may be employed in a wider sphere and in failing to see why they should not be employed with success."

His address inaugurated a lecture series established in tribute to the "wise and beneficent rule" of Sir Robert Falconer as president from 1907 to 1932 of the University of Toronto, a university which has become, in Earl Baldwin's opinion, "one of the most significant in the English-speaking world."

"What common stuff have I found in our people?" Earl Baldwin asked. "Fundamentally a stout individualism, yet with the power of co-operation, a broad and tolerant humanity, and humor. Not wit, which is of the intellect, but humor, which is of the heart."

"It is said that we are impervious to ideas and that problems of the intellect do not interest us as a people. There is truth in that but I do not think that we are incapable of understanding."

The Englishman's reaction to a new proposition in politics or other fields was, "will it work?" and he had an uncanny instinct as to what would or would not work.

No two democratic systems were alike, either in form or spirit. The British constitution, a monarchy and democracy, could never have been created but only evolved, the result of the work of countless men of all classes and many creeds.

"This tradition is in itself our greatest safeguard and without it we should be more exposed to certain obvious dangers in not having a written constitution. In that we are singular. The very flexibility makes us cautious and at the same time allows us an adaptability in our evolution which our political sense enables us to utilize to the fullest extent."

The English party system was not one of rival ideologies nor of "imported innovations" adapted to a structure unfitted to receive them. The danger of the party system came from the fact that the party system was changed to that of rival ideologies, neither of which will suffer the very existence of its opponents.

"Any attempt to change the basis of our constitution whether from the left or right might easily strain it to the breaking point. That is why internally we have no dealings with Fascism or Communism. Either would destroy the soul of our people and the form of our constitution."

Insurance Scheme Ready
Ottawa.—The government is prepared to present legislation for a national unemployment insurance scheme as soon as the necessary constitutional amendment has been obtained. Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, told a questioner in the House of Commons. So far three provinces (Quebec, Alberta and New Brunswick) had refused to agree to this constitutional amendment.

Belgium's New Cabinet
Brussels.—Senator Hubert Pierlot has succeeded in forming a two-party coalition government and the three-party cabinet he formed had broken up within a few hours. Pierlot's own Catholic party and the Liberals will form the basis of the new cabinet. The Socialists refused to co-operate.

Canada's Defence Position

Wants Committee Appointed To Ascertain The Facts

Ottawa.—A parliamentary committee vied with the task of ascertaining the facts relating to Canada's defence position was advocated in the senate by Hon. W. A. Griesbach (Con. Alberta). Such a committee might either be composed of members of the commons or the senate or be a joint committee of both houses, he said.

General Griesbach, war-time commander of the 1st Canadian Infantry brigade, spoke on the government's measure aimed at creating a defence purchasing board. The bill got second reading and was referred to the banking and commerce committee.

The need for a committee arose out of the frequency with which the minister of national defence declined to disclose information relating to Canada's defence position, on the ground that it was not in the public interest. The committee could call the technical military officers and obtain from them the relevant facts, the senator said.

A second suggestion, which General Griesbach declared he would press on the bank and commerce committee, when the bill came before it, was that the chairman of the proposed purchasing board should be appointed a member of the defence council. This procedure was followed in the United Kingdom, where the director-general of munitions was a member of the army council, he said.

Moving second reading, Senator Raoul Dandurand, government leader, outlined the scope of the bill and recalled the circumstances which, during the Great War, had led up to the establishing of the war purchasing commission. He cited the various enactments adopted by the wartime government to eliminate excessive profits from war supplies and declared the present bill to be an effort in the same direction.

A Vicious Spiral

Sir Edward Beatty Opposed To Any Further Increase In Taxation

Montreal.—While taxes are necessary, there is no need for Canadians to "reconcile ourselves to any further increase in taxation, or even to the maintenance of the present situation," Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, told the annual meeting of the Purchasing Agents' Association of Montreal.

"My own strong feeling is that we have got into a vicious spiral," he said. "Disturbed economic conditions have tended to increase the number of people who are supported by taxation. This in turn, increases taxation, which tends to enlarge the number who are supported by taxes. I think, indeed, that we have gone quite far on such a spiral in Canada, but I do not believe that we have to go on indefinitely."

A matter to which the association might devote its attention, said the speaker, was that of price parity in the Dominion.

"In my business," he said, "I am very much worried about this lack of price parity . . . and what I can do with it."

"I know, for example, that our biggest single block of customers—the farmers of western Canada—are not getting enough for their goods to enable them to buy any more goods than they have to sell, and my company cannot hope to prosper unless this exchange of traffic goes on. If we are to have profit, then the farmer must sell wheat and buy other goods as well. It is difficult for him to do that in any volume at the present level of income which he enjoys."

"That leads me to think that, unless the price of what the farmer produces is going to rise very rapidly, the rest of us will have to set our minds very seriously to reducing the price of what he buys."

Action May Be Taken

Ontario Seeks Ban On Article Aimed At Royal Family

Toronto.—Authority for the attorney-general to bring an action to prevent publication of any newspaper, pamphlet, magazine or other printed matter containing any writing, article or picture "tending to insult, degrade, revile or expose to hatred, contempt, ridicule or mockery" His Majesty George VI. or the royal family would be granted under a judicature act amendment introduced in the Ontario legislature. The amendment provides action may be taken in the supreme court and empowers the court to order a defendant to file a bond to refrain from publication of any such matter. Any one who, after the service upon him of an order restraining such publication, continues to do so, shall be liable for contempt of court.

Bren Machine Guns

British Manufacturing Sufficient To Meet The Needs Of The Army
London.—British arms plants are now manufacturing Bren machine-guns in sufficient numbers to meet the needs of the army, War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha told the House of Commons.

"The output is being enlarged and a sufficient capacity is being created in Canada," he said. "I am glad to say that Australia, South Africa and India also contemplate setting up factories for the manufacture of these guns."

He stated the British government no longer had to pay royalties for the manufacture of these weapons, originated in Czechoslovakia.

A UNITED FRONT MUST BE SHOWN BY THE EMPIRE

London.—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, addressing a Canada club dinner in his honor, said people claiming equality within the British commonwealth of nations could not possibly be at war and at peace at the same time. "You cannot maintain neutrality and owe allegiance to a common crown if one Dominion is at war and another is at peace," the former Canadian prime minister said. "That problem, however, is with us and is one with which responsible statesmen of the empire must grapple."

Mr. Bennett said that however great difficulties were encountered, or whatever sacrifices were involved, if the life of the empire was threatened, there would arise "such a feeling as would manifest itself by sweeping aside longings for peace."

In that surge would also arise a demand that Canadians take their place in defending the life of the empire along with the freedom and liberty its peoples had enjoyed.

He is convinced that if the empire is to survive it can only do so on the basis of consolidation of its economic life.

"I believe we must find some scheme for closer co-ordination of effort in foreign affairs if we are to present a united front to the world," Mr. Bennett went on.

He said he personally was convinced that ministers of every government of overseas Dominions might well be resident in London for closer consultation in times of crisis and to "present a common front to the world."

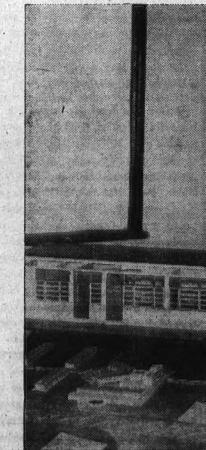

This was the first public dinner given Mr. Bennett since he arrived to take up permanent residence in England.

Winston Churchill, Conservative member of parliament, also spoke, while in the audience were two former governors-general, Lord Willington and Lord Beaverbrook; Lord Beaverbrook, Sir Thomas Inskip, Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Hon. Vincent Massey, Lord Maughan and Archbishop Harding of Rupert's Land.

"Canada has a great part to play in the relations of Great Britain and the United States," Mr. Churchill said. "She spans the Atlantic ocean with her loyalties and clings the American hand with her faith and great will."

"The long frontier from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans guarded only by neighborly respect is an example for every country and a pattern for the future world."

Quebec has increased the gasoline tax from six to eight cents a gallon. Premier Dufflessis said revenue derived from the increased tax would be devoted to Quebec's $50,000,000 highway construction project.

China Is Hopeful

Chiang Says Japan Is Reduced To A Second Rate Power

Chungking.—General Chiang Kai-shek says "under existing circumstances peace is impossible" in the Chinese-Japanese war, now in its 22nd month.

In less than 22 months Japan has been reduced to a second rate power," the Chinese leader told newspapermen. "The moment surely is coming when she no longer can bear the strain—then will the hope of peace dawn."

"If Japan persists in her dream that the outcome of the war will be a new order in the Far East than a permanent, Pacific peace is impossible. Any Chinese not an idiot or traitor concurs in this viewpoint."

A Chinese military spokesman said the "elastic ribbon" tactics of the Chinese—harassment designed not to precipitate large-scale battles—were checking the Japanese from the South China coast to Mongolia in the northwest.

For Prorogation

House May Be Prorogued By The King On May 19th

Ottawa.—There is a "good prospect" parliament will be prorogued by the King on May 19, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said after a caucus of Liberal members and senators.

If the work of the session is not finished then an adjournment of a month will be taken, he said. Previously the government intention was to make any adjournment only for the four days the King and Queen will be in Ottawa.

The caucus discussed "ways and means of expediting the business of the session and considered an agreement among the Liberal members to reduce debate."

The Conservative caucus also discussed prorogation by May 19 and the consensus of opinion favored completion of the work by then.

Tangier Being Watched

Zone Is Of Strategic Importance To Five Nations

Gibraltar.—The international zone of Tangier, with 225 square miles and 60,000 population, joined the list of international "hot spots" as the result of its strategic importance to five nations in event of a Mediterranean war.

The Tangier zone lies adjacent to Spanish Morocco on the north African Atlantic coast opposite Gibraltar. Great Britain and France had indirectly warned dictator states attempting to occupy it, and in turn, have received assurances from Spanish officials. In Tetuan, Spanish Morocco, that Gen. Franco contemplated no impending move against the zone.

The German war fleet of 40 vessels will call at Tangier about May 1, and reports circulated that many Italian sailors had been housed recently at the Italian legation in the city, although no Italian warships were in port.

Associated Press reports that New York shipping sources have confirmed that vessels normally routed through the Mediterranean sea and the Suez canal to eastern ports are rounding the Cape of Good Hope because of a bout, declared, insurance rates in waters where various fleets are concentrated.

SAYS BRITAIN'S ONLY DESIRE IS TO PROMOTE PEACE

London.—Great Britain offered a "no encirclement" pledge to Germany as the cabinet stepped up its drive for more arms and allies.

Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, discussing the "cry of encirclement" raised by Germany and Italy against the French-British defensive front, declared:

"I would be prepared at any time to give a most solemn undertaking on the authority of the government that no such idea would ever find a place in British policy."

For Britain to attempt to forge a ring of steel round Germany would not only be folly, he said, but "it would be contrary to the whole trend of British thought which rests essentially on a desire to live and let live in the world."

Lord Halifax said negotiations with Soviet Russia for an arm pact were being actively pursued and he hoped "recognition of different points of view" would permit the "progress that we all desire."

Prime Minister Chamberlain spoke briefly in parliament, saying he had nothing new to report on defensive alliance negotiations.

Lord Halifax said Britain would go to war only as a last resort.

"If war ever came again to the world," he said, "it would, so far as the people of this country are concerned, only be because they would feel there was no other way of defending the causes and values which to them are more important than life itself."

Lord Halifax denied Britain's policy aimed at dividing the world "into two camps."

"We are always ready to take our part in more positive endeavors, not only to restrict force, but to promote enduring peace," he said.

Lord Halifax said Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, would return to Berlin when his leave expired. He gave no hint as to exactly when the ambassador, who was ordered to London to report shortly after the German annexation of Czechoslovakia, would complete his holiday.

The foreign secretary said an extremely close watch was being maintained on troop movements in Spain but that the British government's information did not warrant a great deal of credence being placed in reports of Italian and German concentrations on the Pyrenees and Portuguese frontiers or close to Gibraltar. It was the period of the demonstration for the Spanish forces and this might account for the rumors.

Lord Halifax referred to the possibility of a permanent foreign policy if Britain were able to secure cessation of "those constant unprovoked attacks on foreign territories which have shocked world opinion."

"It is true that it is impossible to cast the world into a permanent mold or arrest the peaceful evolutions of the peoples of different states. Therefore, what we all desire to see is a comprehensive system against aggression, but with facilities for peaceful change, excluding no one who will come in with us."

THREE NATIONS SAID PLEDGED TO STOP AGGRESSION

London.—Soviet Russia was reported reliably to have sent the British foreign office proposals which indicated Soviet willingness to participate in the British-French coalition.

A source usually well informed said "the entire forces" of the three nations would be pledged to resist any aggression in Europe if the proposals were accepted.

The Soviet proposals, which countered those put forward in Moscow by the British ambassador, Sir William Seeds, to Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov, were being considered by the British foreign office.

It was reported also talks with Turkey were progressing.

Thus some quarters believed if agreement could be reached with Moscow, Britain shortly would be able to announce inclusion of two new allies—one with great reserves of manpower and raw materials and the other of prime strategic importance—in the front she is building in an attempt to check the Rome-Berlin axis.

Poland, Greece and Roumania already have received promises of French-British aid if their independence is threatened.

Details both of the proposals and counter-proposals were kept secret, but previous reports had indicated Britain sought a pledge of Soviet aerial aid in event of any military threat to the independence of Poland and Roumania, which France and Britain have promised to defend.

Government circles appeared not greatly perturbed by the address of Premier Mussolini in Rome and some thought it even comparatively mild, inasmuch as it did place plans for a world exposition in Rome in 1942 as proof of peace expectations although he called President Roosevelt's proposal for a 10-year peace agreement "absurd."

Winston Churchill, wartime minister of munitions, it is believed, will enter the cabinet shortly, possibly as lord president of the council, a post now held by Viscount Runciman.

Robert Hudson, overseas trade secretary, and Captain Ernest Wallace, financial secretary to the treasury, were mentioned as possible successors at the transport office.

Reuters News Agency said Capt. Wallace was the likely choice.

Goes On Active Duty

Col. Lindbergh To Make A Survey Of American Aviation

Washington.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the famous flier, was called to the colors in a dramatic move to insure that the United States army shall remain in front in the development of warplanes.

A few days after expert witnesses had told congressional committees that Germany was building better "planes than United States, the surprise announcement was issued by Henry Woodring, secretary of war, that Lindbergh, an Air Corps reserve officer, had gone on active duty and would make a survey of American aviation facilities for the Army Air Corps.

The "Lone Eagle" reported at the office of the chief of the air corps, Major General Henry Arnold. He then departed on an inspection trip of research centers. Later he will make a confidential report to General Arnold.

Shortly before the Lindbergh announcement was made, President Roosevelt held a conference with financial and other advisors on ways of protecting the United States from any economic shocks which would result if Europe went to war.

The King's Birthday

Dominion Offices Will Be Closed On May 20th

Ottawa.—Dominion government departments will be closed May 20, the date on which Canadians will celebrate the birthday of King George.

Closing of government departments on May 24, Victoria Day, will depend on whether parliament is sitting. If it is, a skeleton staff will remain on duty but it is not a general civil service holiday will be observed.

The birthday of King George has been observed in Canada on June 9 since his accession to the throne but this year it was moved ahead to May 20 so that it could be celebrated while Their Majesties were in Ottawa.

The King's actual birthday is December 14.

"Give It the Works"

THAT'S what our buyers tell the Research Bureau when they want to have merchandise tested for strength or performance.

Stockings, cloth and fabrics are tested at strain points by the "Mullen Tester," which records the pressure required to burst them. Linoleums, leather and certain fabrics are given severe friction tests to prove their wearing qualities. Overall and work garments are subjected to a straight pull to determine the tensile strength of the denim. Rayon products are tested for their ability to wash and iron as well. Processed fabrics are subjected to tests under running water before they are advertised as shower-proof. Hats are plunged into pails of water or left under a running tap before we call them weatherized. Suits are taken to pieces to determine the soundness of the inner construction. Boards are painted and exposed to the weather for months to determine the wearing qualities of the paint. A motor pushed a heavy iron roller over a mattress and spring for days to determine the effects of reasonable wear and tear.

By means of tests such as these we are able to guarantee that the merchandise finally selected for our catalogue will give satisfaction to our customers. EATON advertising means what it says; exhaustive tests have been made to prove that all statements are true.
